

What if your organization could be inspired, engaged, and transformed through a powerful, innovative approach to learning?

Acquire new information and skills successfully and rapidly by using Accelerative Learning.

Lecture-based, computer-based or a traditional textbook approaches do not address the needs of each learner. Accelerative Learning's holistic approach blends the world's best learning methodologies to engage the whole brain, unlocking an individual's full learning potential. After experiencing a learning environment that builds confidence, promotes collaboration, and positive group interaction, participants walk away ready to apply these new skills on the job.

We have many years of experience working with organizations all over the world, including companies in the construction, oil, gas, and commercial airline industries as well as in the field of education. We have found that our method is applicable to anyone who is looking for substantially better information and skills retention, training and job satisfaction, and amazing results from their training programs.

Results:

- Increased learning retention and job performance
- Higher employee satisfaction and engagement
- The best use of the time and money invested in training
- Employees acquire information and skills more rapidly

Get Started!

Call us, tell us about your needs and we will put together a proposal outlining our recommendations. We can:

- Develop customized ESL immersion programs, for any industry
- Train facilitators and teachers on how to incorporate Accelerative Learning
- Customize and design curriculum for your corporate programs
- Update and renovate your current training programs

Call us today to learn how we can help with your corporate and language training programs!

Toll Free: (888) 256-3527

“Having Learning Elements guide us in Accelerative Learning, has been an amazing experience because of the information we have received and incorporated into our training. They sincerely care for and are committed to the success of each participant. They are very detailed and make each session a life-changing encounter.”

- Amaya Garcia, International
Reservations Training Coordinator
American Airlines

Phone (USA): 888-256-3527

Phone (Outside USA): +1 513 518 9048

Web: <http://www.Learning-Elements.com>

Email: info@learning-elements.com

Skype: learning-elements

Training Courses & Seminars

The Elements of Accelerative Learning: Training for Facilitators and Teachers

Give your trainers the tools they need to create powerful learning experiences, resulting in maximized use of your company's resources. Participants will learn to create a stress-free, positive, and learner-centered environment that inspires participants and facilitates learning.

This course is conducted using the methodology itself, so attendees will experience the power of learning in this way, firsthand. Acquire information and techniques to help trainers deliver dynamic training experiences with greater results.

Who should attend:

Training managers, directors, curriculum developers, teachers, instructors and educators, or anyone with an interest in a course that inspires new ways of looking at how training and education can be transformed.

Language Lifelines™ Program: English as a Second Language

Acquire English language skills at a rate that is 2 to 3 times faster than "traditional" methods. This course removes the stress, fear, and barriers that can be present in most language courses. This unique Accelerative Learning approach deeply immerses students in the total language. Individual learning needs are met by using the latest whole brain research. Students quickly develop self-confidence and positive self-esteem, resulting in rapid acquisition and true proficiency. Through the use of music, art, games, role play and other enjoyable group interactions, students acquire the business skills they need to succeed, and at the same time acquire self confidence when using their new language for life.

Who should attend:

Corporations and organizations with a time-critical need for their employees or workforce to acquire English proficiency rapidly and effectively in a short period of time. Courses are available for every level - from novice English speakers, to those wishing to improve proficiency to an advanced level.

Consulting Services

Customized Curriculum Design: Corporate and Language Applications

Your company is unique and its training should reflect your culture, your goals and the needs of your people. We design curriculum and materials that help you achieve exceptional results. Using our expertise in developing corporate training curriculum in areas such as technical training, safety, diversity, leadership, and customer service, we take the time to get to know your business so you receive a customized product that takes your business where it needs to go. We also develop completely customized ESL immersion programs, for any industry. This can include specific technical vocabulary, as well as company values, mission, culture and philosophy.

Training Program Renovations

Staying competitive in the marketplace requires constantly acquiring knowledge and incorporating the latest in training research and methods. Ensuring your training programs are up-to-date and reflect the industry's current climate and standards is key to staying on top. We can work with you to renovate and redesign your current training programs, by applying Accelerative Learning design principles to achieve greater results and improve your return-on-investment.

Phone (USA): 888-256-3527

Phone (Outside USA): +1 513 518 9048

Web: <http://www.Learning-Elements.com>

Email: info@learning-elements.com

Skype: learning-elements